

Why in the world does the FCC want to limit my choice??
Let the market decide, capitalism is still a pretty good idea, the better products and services will ultimately win. The FCC should be keeping the consumer's best interest in mind, period!